WHO'S WHO IN CHILDREN'S CLASSICS

WHO sailed off one night
In a big, wooden shoe,
And were rocked on the waves
Of the deep "sea of dew"?

WHO SAID THIS?

I have ever deemed it fundamental for the United States never to take an active part in the quarrels of Europe. Their political interests are entirely distant from ours. Their mutual jealousies, their balance of power, their complicated alliances, their forms and principles of government, are all foreign to us. They are nations of eternal war . . . On our part, never had a people so favorable a chance of trying the opposite system, of peace and fraternity with mankind, and the direction of all our means and faculties to the purpose of improvement instead of destruction.

THOMAS JEFFERSON, 1823.
